

Unify communication and access control with a powerful integration between Aiphone IX|IXG Series and LenelS2 OnGuard®

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ I/O relay control
- ✓ Real-time access control alerts
- ✓ Event logging
- ✓ Status tree and station mapping

The integration between Aiphone IX|IXG Series with LenelS2 OnGuard creates a connected security experience that blends communication, video, and event awareness into one smart platform. Teams gain a clear view of intercom activity inside OnGuard, along with the ability to place or manage calls from the same interface they already use for daily operations. This gives operators a smoother workflow and a quicker way to respond when a situation needs attention.

With intercoms and access control working in sync, OnGuard brings stronger oversight to every interaction. Operators can view activity, trigger actions, and confirm events with confidence, all inside a familiar environment. This tighter connection between intercom communication and access control strengthens awareness and supports faster decision making.

The integration also elevates visibility through rich event tracking that captures meaningful activity across the entire system. OnGuard keeps a clear record of call activity, alerts, and system behavior, giving security teams the insight they need to understand patterns and ensure reliable performance. Together, Aiphone and LenelS2 deliver a connected solution that helps organizations stay informed, stay responsive, and stay ahead of emerging needs.
