

Automate Design and Bill of Materials for Aiphone Access Control Systems

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ Easily drag and drop into your design
- ✓ Automate bill of materials for Aiphone access control
- ✓ Invite your team, customers, and Aiphone support

Aiphone Access Control is available for design and automated bill of materials with System Surveyor, the industry-leading site survey and system design platform. This partnership allows integrators and resellers to quickly drag and drop AC Series devices onto an imported floor plan (or integrated Google Maps view), producing a professional visual design and an accurate, proposal-ready bill of materials in an instant.

Accessible from iOS and Android devices, and any web browser, System Surveyor also enables real-time collaboration. Teams, customers, and Aiphone support can all work from the same design, saving time by avoiding back-and-forth exchanges. It is faster and easier than ever to spec and sell Aiphone access control systems with System Surveyor.

Quick, professional designs. Drag-and-drop from the Aiphone catalog to cut design time in half.

Automated, accurate BOMs. Eliminate manual errors with bills of materials that are generated instantly.

Seamless collaboration. Share exact layouts, BOMs, and live design access with your team, customers, and Aiphone resources.

More success, better margins. Resellers report increases in designs, proposals, and win rates.
